You are your essence. Everything else are just patterns.	Everyone of us has a song inside. Give this tone to the world as your gift.	God please teach me to ask the right questions.	Know that you are protected in all your being and doing.	Rise above your past. All experiences were worthy to lead you to this point where you are today.	When you found your place in the circle of life stretch your hands towards your brothers and sisters.	The stream of life is inside everyone of us. Listen to IT's tone and learn to realize IT's melody.	You are allowed to take whatever life gives to you. You are worthy and earn it.	Let your children feel that you feel what they feel while they are feeling. This will change the world.	You only find contentment if you are willing to heal the old sadness in the depth of your heart.	Only who knows about the eternal cycles should lead others.	Please God give me patience - but immediately!	What will you do now that you know your success is sure...
